Your statement:

I, _____ have regularly walked on Cobh's Deepwater Quay for more than 20 years. At all stages during this period I did so without hindrance or the need to ask permission from anybody. It was always known that this was a public right of way and certainly at no stage did anybody suggest otherwise to me until the Port of Cork company attempted to block it in recent times.

The right of way on Deepwater Quay has always been very important to Cobh and to me and my family. It is a lovely place to walk and to meet other people and is one of the nicest walks anywhere in County Cork.

Yours sincerely
